

Foster, William
ECON 329-101
Health Economics
Loyola University Chicago
04-13-2014 -04-27-2014

Comments: Use the space provided in the text area below for your comments.

- Wish it wasn't a night class. That would have made it a lot better.
- Because of this course, I'm seriously considering a career in health care management. Professor Foster's teachings inspired me to look more into the field. I was able to talk about many of the concepts we learned in class in job interviews and ended up getting an internship at a Pharmaceutical company. I'm really glad I took this course. I wish there was a part II. Amazing professor.
- Professor Foster was amazing! My experience was nothing short of excellent. Even though it was a night class, my attention was captivated the entire time every class. Thank you very much for reminding me why I enjoy economics and the education process!
- Awesome professor! Would love to take him again
- Professor Foster is one of the best professors I have had at Loyola in my 4 years at this school. I've been attracted to several classes because of the content, but was turned off by the teaching methods and styles of some of the professors, but Professor Foster was SO interesting and engaging. It was actually my pleasure to come to Water Tower every Tuesday night at 7pm, even though I wouldn't be back at Lake Shore until 10pm due to the terrible shuttle timings. Professor Foster is a great teacher. I wish I would have taken him sooner!
- One of the most engaging and interactive teachers I have taken at Loyola. Highly recommended
- Professor Foster was successful in keeping the subject matter entertaining and relevant. He was able to keep my attention, even though this was a night class.
- Best Economics professor at Loyola, made the material applicable to real life
- Prof. Foster is a great guy, cares about his students, gives animated lectures, encourages discussions, does his best to understand and answer student questions. Often hard to get in touch with him by email but that makes sense because he seems to teach a ton of classes all over the place. Sometimes I wished lectures were a little more structured, especially when some quiz questions weren't specifically covered in class. This class would be very different (better) if it weren't 2.5 hours at night. Wished we'd done a little more in-depth analysis of the ACA but I guess the theory is important if you're serious about the health economics field. Maybe the article assignment could be expanded more into a case project to bring more things into real-life. Thanks for a good semester and good luck defending your dissertation!
- Awesome professor. I really enjoyed having this class once a week as well. Loyola would be smart to keep this guy around!
- Best economics professor I have had at Loyola.